Melissa Anselmo, MPH, is the National OpenNotes Program Director in the Division of General Medicine and Primary Care at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. She studied at Bucknell University (BS) and the University of Otago (MPH) in New Zealand as a Rotary International Ambassadorial Scholar. She has conducted quantitative and qualitative research on health systems in developing countries. She is interested in the implementation of low cost interventions that improve access to health services and promote patient engagement.

From http://www.myopennotes.org/about-opennotes/project-team/

Oct 12, 2015