

Alan Soderblom
Vice President & CIO
Adventist Health

Alan Soderblom, vice president and CIO of Adventist Health, assumed his current position in June 2007. In this role, Soderblom oversees the management of information technology throughout Adventist Health's four-state service area.

Most recently, Soderblom served as president and CEO of Paradise Valley Hospital, where he also was vice president of Finance and CFO. Prior to that, he was vice president at Loma Linda University Adventist Health Sciences Center where he was responsible for the administrative and fiscal management of Loma Linda University Behavioral Medicine Center. With over 27 years of health care experience, Soderblom began his career in 1986 as a financial analyst at Loma Linda Community Hospital.

Soderblom holds a bachelor's degree in Accounting and Business Administration from La Sierra University in Riverside, California, and an MBA from the University of Redlands in Redlands, California. In addition, Soderblom is a member of the College of Healthcare Information Management Executives.

Soderblom and his wife, Karen, have two children, Sissel and Stig, and reside in Loomis, California.